

The Marvelous Riches of Savoring Christ

Table of Contents:

To E. M.

- I. All spiritual blessings are in Christ Jesus, and to be dispensed to the poor and needy, Nov. 1848
- II. Christ proved to be all-sufficient in near views of eternity, and recommended to seeking souls, April 1849
- III. The matchless love of Christ as the Bridegroom, Oct. 31, 1849
- IV. The long patience of the Husbandman, May 10, 1850
- V. Earthly things bedimmed by clear views of the glory of Christ, Aug. 27, 1850
- VI. Bearing one another's burdens, Sept. 25, 1850
- VII. Christ is all, Dec. 1850
- VIII. The deceivableness of the form without the power of godliness, June 11, 1851
- IX. Signs of spiritual life, Sept. 15, 1851
- X. Encouragement to a burdened soul, Nov. 14, 1851
- XI. The blessings of affliction, Sept. 15, 1851
- XII. Difficulties met, March 7, 1853
- XIII. Counsels how to meet daily cares, Saturday morning
- XIV. The world seen in the light of eternity, Friday
- XV. Encouragements to venture on Christ, May 1854
- XVI. Christ the Burden-bearer, Sabbath morning
- XVII. A word of warning against worldly conformity, August 5, 1854
- XVIII. Victory over self by abiding in Christ, August 14, 1854
- XIX. The simplicity of faith, Thursday, 1854
- XX. A seeking soul encouraged to come to the Lord's Table
- XXI. Christ the only Physician for a sin-sick soul, Saturday night, 1854
- XXII. A foretaste of glory, August 15, 1855
- XXIII. A Christmas feast on Christmas-day, Saturday morning, Dec. 23
- XXIV. To the Dove in the cleft of the Rock, December 31, 1855
- XXV. Spiritual Declension (Part i.), Feb. 1856
- XXVI. Spiritual Declension (Part ii), March 1856
- XXVII. The blessedness of separation from the world, May 5, 1856
- XXVIII. The fullness of Christ, May 1856
- XXIX. The Believer's power, Tuesday morning
- XXX. "Looking unto Jesus" the way to resist the devil and his temptations, April 1856
- XXXI. Sympathy in suffering, August 1856
- XXXII. The fullness of Christ revealed by the Spirit, April 30, 1857
- XXXIII. Faith's view of Christ as the Chiefest among ten thousand, Aug. 1857
- XXXIV. A meditation upon the triumph of faith over difficulties
- XXXV. The Believer "cast down" by the power of indwelling sin, "yet not destroyed," 1857
- XXXVI. The suffering sympathy of Christ, Good Friday morning, 1857
- XXXVII. Christ, our substitute, the consolation in time of trial, Sept. 24, 1857
- XXXVIII. Written after seeing a microscope, Thursday, Jan. 1858
- XXXIX. The suitability of Christ to the sinner, 1858

- XL. The subjugation of self through the cross of Christ, Aug. 1, 1858
- XLI. The preciousness of Christ unfathomable and ever new, Sept. 23, 1858
- XLII. A New Year's greeting, Jan. 1859
- XLIII. Christ our near Kinsman, Jan. 1859
- XLIV. The presence of Christ in a time of affliction, March 1859
- XLV. An important anniversary, Oct. 31, 1859
- XLVI. Christ in everything, 1859
- XLVII. The riches of Christ for the poor in spirit, 1859

To Mr. J.A.

- XLVIII. Warnings to an unconverted friend, Dec. 1855
- XLIX. Warnings to an unconverted friend, Jan. 19, 1856
- L. Warning to an unconverted friend, Aug 1, 1856

To Mrs F.

- LI. An introductory letter to Miss F., written to her mother, Saturday afternoon

To Miss F.

- LII. Heart-searchings suitable to a birthday, March 31, 1859
- LIII. Encouragements to one afar off, to come unto Jesus Saturday, May 12, 1860
- LIV. Pleadings with a soul
- LV. A counsel of love

To Mrs. B.

- LVI. The power of the precious blood of Christ, 1849

To Miss M.

- LVII. The tenderness of the Good Shepherd, January 19, 1850
- LVIII. The wounds of sin and the healing power of the good Samaritan, Feb. 27, 1850
- LIX. Christ able to save to the uttermost, April 1850
- LX. Balm in Gilead, June 3, 1850
- LXI. A harassed soul pointed to the blood, Dec. 2, 1850,
- LXII. Submission to the Lord's will under bereavement, Dec. 31, 1850
- LXIII. The immutability of God's purposes in grace, Feb. 21, 1851
- LXIV. Mercy for the chief of sinners, April 23, 1851
- LXV. Submission to the ways of God, June 12, 1851
- LXVI. Faith the gift of God, Jan. 12, 1852
- LXVII. Faith overcomes impossibilities, March 21, 1852
- LXVIII. Strength equal to the hour of weakness, May 8, 1852
- LXIX. Superabounding grace, Aug. 24, 1852
- LXX. Entering into rest by believing, Dec. 27, 1852
- LXXI. The power of temptation and the arm of deliverance, May 23, 1853
- LXXII. Jesus the Brother born for adversity, Dec. 7, 1853

- LXXIII. Jesus, Jehovah Rophi, Nov. 17, 1854
- LXXIV. The Sin-bearer and the sinner, Feb. 9, 1855
- LXXV. The tried and convinced sinner encouraged, June 25, 1855
- LXXVI. The snare broken, Jan. 19, 1856
- LXXVII. Tribulation worketh patience, April 2, 1856
- LXXVIII. The plausibility of unbelief, June 10, 1856
- LXXIX. The bosom of Jesus, March 10, 1857
- LXXX. The power of faith, June 3, 1858

To Mr. Macdonald

- LXXXI. Counsels to a young man entering the ministry, June 1855
- LXXXII. Counsels to a young man entering the ministry, July 22, 1855
- LXXXIII. Counsels to a young man entering the ministry, Sept. 1855

To Mrs. Turner

- LXXXIV. The exercise of faith, Nov. 27, 1855
- LXXXV. "Healing leaves for the sorrows of the way", May 5, 1856
- LXXXVI. "Comfortable words for a sorrowing spirit", Aug. 12, 1856

To Miss C.

- LXXXVII. A foretaste of "the glory that excelleth", May 24, 1838
- LXXXVIII. Christ the Author and Finisher of faith, May 1845
- LXXXIX. The precious trial of faith, January 1, 1848
- XC. Glowing anticipations of the joy of heaven, Aug. 21, 1849
- XCI. The fresh ventures upon Christ of a doubting soul
- XCII. The faithfulness of our heavenly Boaz towards a hear He is alluring to Himself
- XCIII. The efficacy of the precious blood of Jesus, Sept. 25, 1857
- XCIV. Praise in recording the Lord's dealings of love and faithfulness, March 30, 1849
- XCV. The vicarious sufferings of Christ the end of the law, May 22, 1849
- XCVI. Fainting pilgrims encouraged by a testimony concerning Jesus, Aug. 2, 1849
- XCVII. Gospel wine to cheer the warrior, Sept.

To Mrs. H.

- XCVIII. The difficulty of total self-surrender, Nov. 24, 1847
- XCIX. The joy of union and communion with Christ, Feb. 26, 1848
- C. Deep draughts drawn with joy from the wells of salvation, 1849
- CI. The Spirit's teaching, 1849
- CII. The Lord in everything, Sept. 1849
- CIII. The inward witness, Oct. 6, 1849
- CIV. Counsels to hearken to the voice of the Good Shepherd only, Feb. 20, 1850
- CV. The unchangeableness of Christ in the midst of a changing world, May 1850
- CVI. The Lord refreshing His people with the river of His pleasure, June 2, 1850
- CVII. Christ worthy of the soul's highest love, Jan. 12, 1851
- CVIII. The blind led by a way they know not, July 16, 1852

- CIX. Deliverance granted in, not from affliction, July 14, 1853
- CX. The happiness of those that endure, Oct. 17, 1855
- CXI. "I will guide thee with mine eye"
- CXII. The triumphant security of God's people
- CXIII. The Lord's service perfect freedom
- CXIV. Sweet fruit gathered from a bitter root
- CXV. Christ the portion of His people
- CXVI. Faith's grasp of things unseen
- CXVII. Sweet lessons in the valley of humiliation
- CXVIII. Suffering no interruption to the believer's joy
- CXIX. Lessons in the furnace

Reformation Heritage Books